As war and mourning continue in Israel, what are the core questions this moment raises for Israelis and for Jews around the world, and how can they work together to address the moment?

Dr. Masua Sagiv is the Koret Visiting Assistant Professor of Jewish and Israel Studies at UC Berkeley and a Scholar in Residence of the Shalom Hartman Institute based in the San Francisco Bay Area. Masua's scholarly work focuses on the development of contemporary Judaism in Israel, as a culture, religion and nationality, and as part of Israel's identity as a Jewish and democratic state. Her research explores the role of law, state actors and civil society organizations in promoting social change across diverse issues: shared society, religion and gender, religion and state, and Jewish peoplehood. Masua was formerly the Academic Director of the Menomadin Center for Jewish and Democratic Law at Bar-Ilan University. She earned her doctorate in law from Tel-Aviv University, where she wrote her dissertation on the topic of law and social change in the Halachic Feminist struggle in Israel.
